92ND YEAR

GETTYSBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 27, 1909

NO. 10

C. LARUE MUNSON IN TOWN

PUBLIC RECEPTION IN GETTYSBURG THIS TUESDAY EVENING.

Sketches of the Lives of the Democratic Candidates on the County Ticket.

Cyrus LaRue Munson, Democratic candidate for Supreme Court, one of the ablest lawyers of Pennsylvania and this country, will be in Gettysburg this Tuesday evening, and a Public Reception will be held at the Eagle Hotel this Tuesday evening, where he will be glad to meet our people. He has not only the hearty endorsement of Democracy throughout the State but also all Independent Republicans and those who believe in a non-partisan Bench.

Turn out and give Mr. Munson a rousing welcome.

Election Day—Next Tuesday, Nov. 2nd.

W. Howard Dicks.

W. Howard Dicks, that Democratic war horse of Reading township, as the Democratic candidate for Associate Judge, is proving to be the right man for the place. Mr. Dicks is known from one end of the county to the other and is well liked by every one. He has been in various avenues of life and he has always left a good impression and many have heard to give expression to this impression by saying when his name is mentioned, "That's a man I like." Or, "He's a fine man," or similar expressions.

Mr. Dicks was born in Reading township and lived there his entire life. His school days began in the public schools of his district and his education was finished in Dr. Pfeiffer's college at New Oxford, a school in its day having a name for thoroughness. Mr. Dicks first took up the work of teaching and taught schools in Reading, Tyrone and Huntington townships. He holds to-day the professional certificate issued to teachers and also the permanent State certificate.

Giving up teaching, Mr. Dicks took up farming on the well known Dicks' farm along the Conowago, where he has lived for many years with his sisters and where he has come in touch with hundreds of people spending the day along the creek in the shelter of the Dicks' woods, or camping there. His home was the resort of many who frequent the place, for their trouble or satisfaction of their wants. Mr. Dicks was always the kind and obliging neighbor to all, nothing was too much trouble to him, and his many acts of kindness have been remembered by his many friends scattered over the county. Mr. Dicks enjoys deer hunting, he has been in many camps along the mountains and with a quick eye and an unerring shot he has brought down many a trophy, but Mr. Dicks is a hunter that always hunts according to law and respects all the rights of other hunters and there is no more popular hunter in the deer camps than Mr. Dicks when he is on the ground.

In all these relations he has been thrown into intimate acquaintance with many people of the county, and his goodness of character and habits above reproach and his manly, honest, square ways have won the high esteem of all who know him, and from all parts of the county come reports of voters irrespective of party, who are glad of the opportunity to show their esteem for Mr. Dicks by voting for him.

Mr. Dicks has been a very useful citizen in his own township. Year after year upon him has fallen the drudgery of auditing the accounts of his township and he has ever been an intelligent and successful farmer. In season and out of season, all the time, Mr. Dicks has been an ardent Democrat. He has served his township as committeeman and has been delegate to many Democratic conventions and it was always known where he stood, true to those he represented and true to those whom he supported. He was never lukewarm in his politics, always enthusiastic and a worker. In 1886 he was elected to the State Legislature and in this position was always true to his party and county and his every action reflected credit upon him. This position while highly honorable is one from which little return flows to the incumbent and especially to one built upon the generous lines of Mr. Dicks, for after paying campaign expenses and the cost of living at Harrisburg with all the attending outlay there is seldom if any margin left to the incumbent.

The candidacy of Mr. Dicks appeals to many Democrats who have been candidates. As previously stated Mr. Dicks has never been lukewarm. Any Democrat that asked help of Mr. Dicks was always sure to get it. He would stop his work, entertain him, go with him to his neighbors and doing all this as if it was no trouble and only a pleasure. And now the helping hand he has extended to many Democrats are being held out to him, for there are many who will just take off their coats, wade in and leave nothing undone that will bring votes to him and his ticket.

The important duty on Nov. 2nd is to go to the polls and vote

Leo Sneeringer.

Leo Sneeringer, Democratic candidate for Associate Judge, and one of the best citizens of Conowago township, was born in that township sixty-two years ago, a son of Samuel and Mary Smith Sneeringer. He has lived in Conowago township all his life. His education was begun in the public schools of his district and he attended Colbert College at New Windsor for two years.

Leaving the school room he returned to the farm and devoted his attention to all its branches and has been successful and recognized as one of the best and most intelligent farmers in his township. Mr. Sneeringer has ever been reticent and retiring, but his neighbors recognizing his capacities have frequently called upon him to serve in those positions needing intelligent care and attention. He has been auditor in his township again and again, settling the accounts of other officers. He was school director for one term by appointment, and under the new road law he has been one of the supervisors and the secretary of the board. He married a daughter of the late Michael Riley of McSherrystown.

Mr. Sneeringer came of a staunch Democratic family and has always warmly supported his party through all its trials. He has been a Democrat all the time who could be counted upon as always true to his party and its principles. He has never been a candidate for any county office before. As a man of intelligence, of good character, held in highest esteem, dignified, courteous, he is an ideal candidate for Associate Judge. One who would observe the laws of the State. One who would never bring reproach in any way upon the Bench. One who would quietly and courteously perform all the duties of the position and show that he was worthy of the honor bestowed upon him by the people.

It is a delight to support a candidate such as Mr. Sneeringer, and every Democrat should turn out and give him his vote, and work for his election. Until the closing of the polls the thing to do is to work and vote for Leo Sneeringer for Associate Judge.

Election Day—Next Tuesday, Nov. 2nd.

Jacob Goodenberger.

Jacob Goodenberger, the Democratic candidate for Director of the Poor, is one who deserves the kindest consideration not only from Democrats but from the Republican party. Mr. Goodenberger is a man of very moderate means and a defeat is a matter of much moment to him. Two years ago he was placed in a position where a campaign was made by his Republican opponent, not on account of any objection to Mr. Goodenberger, but solely on the ground that the minority Republican party should have representation in the Board of Poor Directors. There was enough Democrats to listen to this plea and give the minority representation asked for so that Mr. Goodenberger lost the election by eleven votes. But the present election presents no such issue. That minority representation still exists, and now every Democrat who listened to that plea should leave nothing undone to elect Mr. Goodenberger, and Republicans should appreciate the representation that was given them by voting for Mr. Goodenberger and so make good the loss to him of two years ago which was their gain.

Mr. Goodenberger was born in Conowago township over sixty-two years ago. His early life was spent in that township where he has made good friends who recognize his many good qualities. For twenty-eight years Mr. Goodenberger has lived in Berwick township. He has been a hard working man. In late years he has been engaged in assisting his son at farming.

During the Civil War Uncle Sam had need of many of his boys for war, in other than the army and navy and Mr. Goodenberger was employed as a teamster of a lumber train building forts around Washington and at night doing guard duty. At the time of the assassination of President Lincoln he was stationed at Arlington Heights.

Mr. Goodenberger's capacity for faithful service is shown in the township offices he has filled. He was elected township clerk and then supervisor. Later he served two terms as school director and acted as secretary of the board.

Mr. Goodenberger is in every way qualified for the position of Director of the Poor. His whole life has been one in which extravagance had no place and that he would economically administer the alms house affairs is absolutely certain, and it would be an economy marked by kindness, for such is the nature of the man. He is a man of the best habits, always attentive to business entrusted to him. His good nature specially over his defeat has made him many friends who are now working for him so that the close of the polls will see that the office of Director of the Poor has been made good to Jacob Goodenberger.

The issues demand a vote as big as ever came out in a Presidential year. Get to the polls and vote.

H. S. Riegle.

H. S. Riegle, the Democratic candidate for Jury Commissioner, completes the county ticket and is one worthy of the support of any citizen no matter what his politics. Mr. Riegle was born in Latimore township in 1858. He attended the public schools of that township and completed his education by attending the summer school at Hampden for three successive summers. Mr. Riegle, during the last twenty years, has been engaged in milling and calling sales, making the acquaintance of hundreds of our people. He began his trade as a miller at the Table Rock mill and for the last fifteen years has been running mills in Menallen township with the exception of two years and a half he was part owner of the Keystone Mills in Highland township. When he sold that mill in 1907 he moved back to Bendersville and took charge of mill formerly operated before moving to the Keystone Mill and at the present time Mr. Riegle is running the Bendersville Roller Mills.

While living in Highland township Mr. Riegle was made township clerk without asking for it. The popularity and good name of Mr. Riegle is shown by the fact that in the heavy Republican district of Menallen township he was the Democratic nominee for Justice of the Peace six years ago and was defeated by six votes. Mr. Riegle has never been a candidate for any county office, and his whole life and character give assurance that when the votes are counted he will receive a good vote from his party and many friends in attestation of the high esteem in which he is held.

DEATH LIST OF THE WEEK

NATIVE KILLED BY TROLLEY IN HANOVER.

Only Slight Scars on Body, the Internal Injuries Causing Death.

JOHN M. SCHWARTZ of Hanover, was fatally injured by being struck by a trolley car on last Wednesday morning and died a few hours later from the injuries received. He was loading brick into his wagon and upon the approach of the trolley car went to the head of his horses and trolley did not slacken speed and he was struck and thrown with force to the ground. The only visible wound was an abrasion of the scalp. Internal injuries were received ending in death two and a half hours later and he never regained consciousness. He was aged 56 years. The funeral was on Saturday services by Revs S. P. Mauger and F. S. Lindaman, interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery. He was a son of ex-County Commissioner Solomon Schwartz of Adams county. He married Miss Lucinda Sheely of near Littlestown 30 years ago, who survives him with four daughters and one son, Mrs. Charles Anthony of Littlestown. Mrs. Frank Tate of Hanover, Misses Fannie and Eddie and Paul at home. He is survived by his father, seven brothers and two sisters, Jacob S., Emory A., and George F., of Hanover, Riley of Conowago township, Charles of Taneytown, Samuel of Hagerstown, Maurice of York county, Miss Louisa of Hanover and Mrs. Wm. Myers of near New Oxford.

MARY BREAM, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bream of New Oxford, died last Wednesday, Oct. 20, in hospital of Johns Hopkins University, aged about 6 years. The little girl suffered an attack of spinal meningitis several years ago and never fully recovered and was taken to Baltimore by her parents to secure braces and while there appendicitis developed and was operated on Wednesday, death following operation. The funeral was on last Saturday, services by Rev. G. N. Lauffer, interment in New Oxford cemetery.

REV. EDWARD F. SWEENEY, for the last 26 years professor of moral theology and church history at Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, died suddenly on Tuesday evening of last week in his 63rd year. On Sunday previously he had preached in Catholic Church, Waynesboro. He had been a priest for 40 years. He was a brilliant student of the propaganda at Rome, where he took his degree of doctor of theology with distinction and was one of the best known educators in the country. He is survived by a nephew, Rev. Thomas McLaughlin, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and two nieces, Sisters of Charity at Emmitsburg.

REV. J. MARION MICKLEY died at the home of his daughter in Carlisle last week aged 75 years. He was a native of the county and graduate from Franklin and Marshall College and the Reformed Theological Seminary then at Mercersburg. He entered the service at the outbreak of the Civil War as chaplain and served until the close of the war. His first charge after the war was to the Reformed church at Akron, Ohio. His health failing he returned to his old home near Gettysburg. After living retired several years until health had been recovered he was pastor of Reformed church at Newburg, Pa., and later at Burketsville, Md. He leaves a wife and two children, Edgar Mickley of McKnightstown, this county, and Mrs. E. A. Shulenberg of Carlisle.

MRS. SARAH WILSON TODD, Carlisle's liberal philanthropist passed away on Tuesday of last week aged 86 years and 6 months. She was the widow of Gen. Lemuel Todd, a brilliant Cumberland county lawyer, who was a captain in the 1st Pa. Reserves, afterward promoted to major. His title of General came as adjutant general of the State of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Todd fell and broke her hip in June and was confined to her bed until she died. She was a very intelligent woman managing an estate estimated at $800,000. She contributed freely to fire companies, gave the churches of Carlisle $5000 each at different times and built for Carlisle the Todd Hospital, which it is said will be endowed by her will. She leaves one son, William.

MRS. ELLEN PRITZGRAFF, a domestic in house of George S. Schmidt of York, committed suicide last Wednesday by inhaling gas. She was a daughter of Lewis Bosserman of Reading township and was aged about 20 years, and had married Isaac K. Pritzgraff, a horse dealer of York. While suffering from severe headache the act of self destruction was committed. She is survived by a brother, John Bosserman, at the Harrisburg Insane Asylum, who last year killed a man and injured another near East Berlin.

MISS EMMA WIERNMAN died on last Saturday evening, Oct. 23 at her home in Englewood, Chicago, from the effects of a stroke aged 64 years. She was a sister of Nicholas Wiernman of town, the body will be brought here from Chicago this Wednesday morning, via R. R. railroad, and burial from the home of her brother Nicholas Wiernman, York St. at 1:30 o'clock.

Lee Wiernman nephew of deceased will accompany body from Chicago. Two weeks ago Mrs. Emmert Wiernman, sister-in-law of Nicholas Wiernman died at her home in Chicago, while Mr. and Mrs. Wiernman were in Chicago.

ISABELLA RAY, child of Mr. and Mrs. John Ray of this place, died on last Friday from acute gastritis aged 3 years, 8 months and 3 days. The funeral was on Sunday afternoon, services by Rev. Henry Anstadt, interment in Evergreen cemetery.

MRS. DAVID AILLERON, the mother of Mrs. Rev. W. B. Hooper, of this place, died at her home in Binghamton, N. Y., on Sunday morning last, aged 87 years. Mrs. Hooper left in the evening for Binghamton.

EARL REAVER, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reaver of Freedom township, died on last Friday aged three weeks. Funeral on Sunday, interment in Evergreen cemetery.

CLARENCE BLOCHER, a well-known young man of Littlestown, committed suicide about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, news of his death reaching us as we go to press. Further particulars next week.

MARRIAGES.

WELTY-YEAGY.—Miss Elsie K. Yeagy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yeagy, and J. Harvey Welty of Philadelphia, were married at the Presbyterian parsonage on last Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. D. W. Woods. They left on the 3:42 train over the Western Maryland for Atlantic City for the honeymoon and will reside in Philadelphia. The bride graduated from the Gettysburg High School several years ago and has been employed at the Gettysburg Department Store. The groom was one of the Conover boys for three years and after graduating from the plant was with the "Philadelphia Inquirer." Later he ran a linotype machine on a Chambersburg paper and is now an operator on the "North American" of Philadelphia. The best wishes of the Compiler are with the young people.

STOCK-OYLER.—On yesterday—Tuesday—morning in St. Francis' Xavier church, Miss Ella Gertrude Oyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Westley I. Oyler, and Harry J. Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stock, both of Gettysburg, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Hayes. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white lace, with veil held in place by a wreath of lilies of the valley. Miss Jennie Redding was bridesmaid and Mr. Storm, of McSherrystown best man. The church was filled with the relatives and friends of the young people.

SNYDER-HEITMUELLER.—On last Wednesday at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, Baltimore, Miss Dorothea Heitmueler of Baltimore and Rev. Henry W. Snyder, who graduated from Seminary in June were united in marriage by Rev. U. S. G. Rupp, assisted by Prof. Luther Kuhlman of this place.

CLUNK-PHILBIN.—Joseph Roy Clunk, son of H. M. Clunk of Irish-town, and Miss May Elizabeth Philbin, daughter of Mrs. Honora Philbin of Baltimore were married Thursday, Oct. 21, at the Cathedral in Baltimore. The young couple will make their home in Irishtown.

KEHM-FICKINGER.—Oct. 16, 1909, by Rev. O. P. Schellhammer, in York, Harry Kehm of East Berlin and Miss Emma Flickinger of Hanover.

Last Matinee and Ox Roast.

The Gettysburg Driving Club will hold their last matinee of the season Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the management have spared no expense to make this the most successful one ever held. The program consists of four races and horsemen are coming from all parts of the county. The big free ox roast will be the star attraction as it has been some time since the people of Adams county have had the pleasure of attending an ox roast, and all should not fail to turn out for this rare treat provided by the management for their friends and patrons.

Hammers Hall.

This hall has been remodeled, large stage, new organ, 100 song service books. This hall is offered to the public free of charge. Gospel Workers, song services, prayer meetings, public school entertainments, institutes, etc. Also festivals and concerts. o 20 4t S. S. W. HAMMERS.

Burglar Captured.

Willy Williams, a strange colored man, whose last home is said to have been at Union Bridge, Md., is in the custody of Sheriff Fissel and charged with the serious crime of burglary. He was caught in the act.

About two o'clock Sunday morning the family of Jacob Strang on South Washington St. were awakened by suspicious noises on 1st floor. Mr. Strang, securing his pistol descended and found the doors of his home wide open and came upon the burglar. Mr. Strang jumped at the man struck him with his revolver and made him a prisoner and he was taken to the lockup and on Monday after charges of burglary had been preferred he was turned over to Sheriff Fissel.

The pockets of Williams were found filled with burnt matches and there are circumstances suggesting that he might be the cause of the recent fires in Gettysburg. Being accused he denied the charge and exhibits anxiety to place himself on a farm outside of town on one of the nights. His whereabouts on those nights are being carefully looked into and it is possible that Willy Williams may have to answer charges of arson in addition to burglary.

LOYAL LEGION IN GETTYSBURG

Hold Interesting Public Meeting in Court House.

The visit to Gettysburg of the Commandery-in-Chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States as guests of the Commandery of the State of Pennsylvania on last Thursday and Friday brought here many distinguished military men of the country. They arrived on Thursday noon. In the party among others were Lieutenant General John C. Bates who had been elected the day before commander-in-Chief of the Loyal Legion, Major General Alex. S. Webb, Jos. W. Plume and J. W. Keifer, Rear Admirals George W. Melville, J. F. Hanscom, Geo. A. Lynn, J. A. B. Smith, Gates Sterling and W. K. Van Rypen and Brigadier Generals W. W. Dudley, S. W. Swift, Richard H. Pratt, Peter Leary and Fred. C. Winkler and the rest of the party to the number of one hundred and four was made up of Colonels, Lieut. Colonels, Majors, Captains and other officers.

The party spent Thursday afternoon on the battlefield going over the First Day's Battle and Culp's Hill. A small party went to the Cavalry Field and five commissioned officers who participated in the Cavalry Fight raised a flag on the new flag pole at that point.

Thursday evening a public meeting was held in the Court House and the room was well filled with the visitors and town people. Gen. John P. Taylor called meeting to order and invited Colonel John P. Nicholson to preside and a flow of eloquence, good feeling and fun followed. Among the speakers were Major Burridge of Maine, Brig. General John C. Black, Rear Admiral George W. Melville, Governor Woodberry of Vermont, Rear Admiral Parker, Lieutenant General John C. Bates and others. Col. O. C. Bosbyshell led the singing of a number of patriotic songs.

Friday was spent in visiting the Second and Third Days fight. The party stopped at the Eagle Hotel and left town Friday afternoon.

GO TO THE POLL AND VOTE.
 How any one who loves his country can stay away from the Polls on election day is beyond understanding. There is no excuse for not doing the duty each voter owes himself and his brotherman. The laws of this country have given into the hands of the voter to say who shall administer the laws. By making use of the franchise of the ballot the voter becomes a sovereign. By ignoring and neglecting what has been given him he makes of himself a cipher, an accomplice of the ills that befall the state which might not have happened if the voter had been true to his duty. The man who stays away from the polls is kinsman to the one in the parable who was given a talent and went and buried it. There are slurs of omission and commission. Pennsylvania presents a shame face to this country by reason of slurs of commission of the machine corruptionists who have made this Commonwealth notorious as corrupt and contented. But it is possible that the responsibility for this condition is of a two-fold character, upon those who committed the wrongs, and also upon those who did not do their duty by going to the polls to prevent them being done. Is there a man in Adams county willing to be classed as in part responsible for the political condition of the state by his neglect to go to the polls and vote. If there is let him arise Nov. 2nd equal to his duty, go to the polls and vote. Let every Democrat show the appreciation of this duty by being at the polls and voting.

THERE WILL BE A QUICK WAY TO VOTE THE BIG TICKET. PUT AN (X) IN THE DEMOCRATIC SQUARE IN THE FIRST COLUMN AND THEN AN (X) OPPOSITE NO TO THE 7TH AMENDMENT.

A WORD TO REPUBLICANS.
 Let us drop all partzanship for the moment and look at the State issue squarely and fairly. It cannot be denied that a Democrat, Mr. Berry, made possible the exposition of the capitol steal. When his term of office as State Treasurer expired the Republican party presented reputable candidates for Auditor General and State Treasurer in the person of Robert Young and John Sheatz. They had had careers antagonistic to the corrupt machine in this state. That machine could not have picked men from their own ranks two years ago and elected them and was compelled to allow the reputable Republicans of the State to name reputable candidates. The facts are being fairly and squarely stated, are they not? What was the result. The good people knew Young and Sheatz could be trusted and the latter was elected to succeed Berry, and it is a fact we are glad to concede that for the past two years the offices of the Auditor General and State Treasurer have been most creditably administered. Now what? A continuance of the kind of administration of the State officers given by Berry, Young and Sheatz is now desirable and should be the concern of every voter. The question then presented is, whether Kipp and Clark, the Democratic candidates will best give the administration of the Berry, Young and Sheatz kind or whether Stober and Sisson the Republican candidates will give it. Surely there is but one answer when the situation is thus resolved. Stober and Sisson are not the kind of Republicans Young and Sheatz were. They have never been independent of the machine but always subservient to it, supporting it in all legislation. They would administer the offices according to the dictates of the machine. Republicans are asked to look at the records of Stober and Sisson and there can be but one conclusion, that machine tools instead of reputable Republicans were nominated this year. Hence every Republican who desires to continue the kind of administration given by Berry, Young and Sheatz must needs vote for those clean, honest citizens, Kipp and Clark.

THE MOST IMPORTANT DUTY EVERY DEMOCRATIC VOTER OWES TO HIMSELF. HIS PARTY AND COUNTRY IS TO GO TO THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY NOV. 2 AND VOTE.

UNREPRESENTED.
 Of the present Justices of our Supreme Court, two reside in Philadelphia, Chief Justice Mitchell and Justice Fell, one in Lancaster, Justice Brown, one in Franklin, Justice Stewart, one in Fayette, Justice Mesterzatz, one in Pittsburg, Justice Porter, and one in Indiana, Justice John P. Elkin. A line drawn from Pittsburg to Philadelphia will leave all of the members of the Court, except Justice Elkin of Indiana County, south of the line. Geographically this distribution of the members of the Court leaves forty eight of the counties of the State north of the line and practically unrepresented upon the Supreme Bench. In these forty eight counties without representation are the valleys of the Schuylkill, Lehigh, Delaware, Susquehanna and Pougheny Rivers, all of the Alleghenite and much of the Bituminous Coal Region, the Oil Fields, Lumber Districts, and the greater part of the Farming Country, with thousands of manufacturing plants. The election of Von Moschizker, a Philadelphiaan, would but emphasize the unfairness to the unrepresented districts of the present distribution of the members of this Court of last resort. A vote for Cyrus LaRue Munson, of Lycoming County, will be a vote for a JUST representation in the Supreme Court.

THE MOST IMPORTANT ELECTION FOR YEARS IS NEXT TUESDAY, NOV. 2. IF ANY VOTER NEGLECTS TO GO AND VOTE AGAINST THE 7TH AMENDMENT HE MAY PAY THE PENALTY OF HIS OWN NEGLIGENCE BY HAVING THE MACHINE PASS A LAW TO APPOINT ELECTION OFFICERS OVER HIM.

KILL 7TH AMENDMENT.
 The Compiler has believed it would be in accord with the principles of Democracy to support all the constitutional amendments but the 7th. The reason for this belief is the opinion that more citizens would attend one election a year than two and hence that the one election would be more representative of the people. There are those who have taken different views of the amendments fearing worse conditions in the future at the hands of a Republican machine. Now whether you support all the amendments or prefer to have nothing to do with him, your way is perfectly clear in one particular namely that the 7th amendment be given an X opposite No. Remember if you do no more, do this. Make all the votes possible against laws that would permit judges of elections and inspectors to be appointed.

 A court should always inspire respect and confidence accompanied by a reservedness and dignity, and these are the very admirable qualities preeminently marking the characters of the two Democratic nominees for Associate Judge, Leo Sneeringer and W. Howard Dicks. They are educated men, men of good judgment, men capable of making fitting appointments that would fall to them to make, men that would not carry to the discharge of any duty and prejudice or bias, but who would be conscientious in the discharge of dutiease and careful to be guided by the laws of the State. The Adams county court will maintain its high character with Sneeringer and Dicks as Associate Judges.

IF THE VOTER DESIRES TO EXPRESS HIMSELF ON EACH AMENDMENT, HE MUST MAKE AN (X) IN THE SQUARES OPPOSITE EACH PROPOSED AMENDMENT. IT WILL TAKE ELEVEN (X) IN ADDITION TO THE ONE IN THE DEMOCRATIC SQUARE IN THE FIRST COLUMN FOR THE FULL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

SYMPATHY.
 Many voters have been heard to express the greatest sympathy for Jacob Goodenberger in his campaign for Director of the Poor. He lost once by eleven votes and without the slightest reflection on the man. He has passed the three score mark and his opponent before he equals him in age has twenty years of opportunity ahead. Jacob Goodenberger has been before the people in convention at primary and election and they have come to like and have sympathy for his determination. He is in every way competent for the office to which he aspires and is entitled to the full benefit of the sympathy his candidacy has called out. Let every Democrat, friend, neighbor and acquaintance support and vote for Jacob Goodenberger and make him a happy man on Nov. 2 by an election.

IF THE 7TH AMENDMENT PASSES JUDGES OF ELECTIONS AND INSPECTORS HEREAFTER WILL NOT BE ELECTED, BUT APPOINTED BY SOME POLITICAL POWER THAT WILL SEEK TO CORRUPT ELECTIONS AND MAKE FRAUDS EASY.

SIGNIFICANT FIGURES.
 After the June primary the Compiler noted the significance of the Republican vote for Associate Judges. That the large vote for H. J. Gulden, who lost the nomination to C. D. Smith by two votes, could have but one meaning and that this one meaning was a Republican protest against the renomination of the Republican candidates. This protest was not for personal reasons but because the office of Associate Judge was one any good citizen could fill and that instead of making the office do double duty to the same incumbents it should be passed around and made to do duty for as many citizens as possible. Surely this is the significance of Mr. Gulden's large vote and after we had so noted it, we were told by a number of Republicans we had hit the nail on the head. Such has been the history of the office, for out of the long list of good reputable citizens who have efficiently served as Associate Judges in the past 58 years there are but two who served two terms and one of these was a Republican. In the face of this history it would seem the Republican party had not been equal to the situation that would renominate incumbents, but perhaps it was not the fault of the party but rather in accord with the desires of those in authority who seem to have a fondness for the perpetuation of friends in office. But is the Republican party prepared to ratify this fondness at the polls?

The important duty on Nov. 2nd is to go to the polls and vote.

WHEN the Republican convention turned down that distinguished jurist, Chief Justice Rice of the Supreme Court, who was unquestionably the choice of a majority of the members of the Bar of the State and of the great mass of voters, and nominated Robert Von Moschizker, a Philadelphia gambler-judge, the eyes of the people should have opened to the iniquity of the situation, and they should see that the nomination of the unknown one, could be for but the one purpose and that not the interest of the people.

Every Voter has the chance to say on Nov. 2nd whether or not the tools of the machine bosses will approve the bills and pay the same in this State. Be sure to vote and vote right.

THE SQUARE DEAL.
 The Republican administration at the alms house in 1905 was so unsatisfactory that the voters decided a change was necessary and it was ordered at the ballot box. Who uncovered the bad book-keeping at that institution? The incoming Democratic administration. Who saw to it that all corrections were made? The Democratic administration. Who collected over $2500 from officials of former administration? The Democratic administration. Who has been conducting the alms house since at an average annual saving of about $1500 to the tax payers? The Democratic administration. What administration has been truest to the people? The Democratic administration. Now in the face of this condition which can not be successfully controverted the issue states every voter in the face, that the square deal for the people would be to continue the Democratic order of things at the alms house. Vote for Jacob Goodenberger.

Democrats do not depend upon Republicans killing the 7th Amendment. Make sure of scratching this snake by turning out to the last man and stamping the life out of it.

ONE GOOD TURN.
 One good turn deserves another. The life of W. Howard Dicks, Democratic candidate for Associate Judge, has been largely made up of service to others. No Democratic candidate has ever applied to him vainly for his support and active work. He has been one of those always faithful on election day in getting out the votes. Go ask those who have been elected to office and each and every one will likely be able to tell of some service rendered by Mr. Dicks. Go ask any who have camped near his home and countless favors have been rendered unselfishly. His manner of life has been such as to inspire admiration for the many good qualities and his willingness to be of service to his friends and neighbors. Now when Mr. Dicks is a candidate for office, one good turn deserves another.

QUESTION TO THE POINT.
 Should there be three Republicans on the Bench in this Democratic county of Adams? That is a plain question for every Democrat or fair minded voter of any party to answer when he comes to cast his ballot. In this Democratic county, two-thirds of our juries are Republicans, the President Judge and a Republican Jury Commissioner, making their selection. There are good intelligent Democrats who have never yet served as jurors. There are good intelligent Democrats who have never served as road and damage viewers and who will not serve as such for five years longer if the Republican Associate Judges be re-elected. What possible claim can these candidates have upon these places? It can only be said of legislative and ministerial offices, that a man's influence, ability and usefulness are increased by his experience, but not at all with the position of Associate Judge, which is largely ornamental. This office should go round as fast as possible among the good men of the county, such as Leo Sneeringer and W. Howard Dicks.

Cyrus LaRue Munson.
 There need be no hesitation in saying, that, of the two candidates for Justice of the Supreme Court of the State, Mr. Cyrus LaRue Munson, of Williamsport, is the one best fitted to fill that position in the interest of all of the people by reason of his high character, unsought nomination and thirty years of varied practice in all of our own and the United States Courts. Nominated for this high honor without his solicitation while traveling abroad, and unanimously, Mr. Munson is beholding to no faction, interest, or clique. He is a splendid lawyer, a cultured and public spirited citizen taking an active and effective interest in all public questions, and a practical business man engaged in the successful management of several home industries, employing large numbers of men—the type of man who should sit upon the Bench of our courts of last resort, which may pass upon the life and property of every citizen. A vote for Cyrus LaRue Munson for Justice of the Supreme Court will be a vote for a man of the people. The Republican candidate of the unpronounceable name is a man trained at the Philadelphia school of politics, who has come up through the pull that goes with those in the favor of the machine, whose nomination was untelecasted and unsuspected by a majority of the delegates assembled in convention a few hours before it was announced as the "state" One who has had no great experience in the great business world, from which a majority of the issues that come before that Court are recruited, and one whose every act must necessarily be tinged with the bias that comes from representing a party, interest or clique and not the general good.

There can be no work on farm or elsewhere on Nov. 2nd as important as going to the polls and voting and killing the 7th Amendment.

Institute at Abbottstown.
 The first of the four general Institutes decided at the Summer Teachers' Meeting to be held during the year will come off on Saturday, Nov. 6th, at Abbottstown. There will be a morning and afternoon session. Teachers arriving by morning train will be in time for the morning meeting. Teachers should take with them the Century Song Books. Prof. H. M. Roth with the assistance of the Abbottstown teachers is preparing an interesting program. Dr. George W. Hull of the Millersville State Normal School will make addresses at both morning and afternoon session. The good people of Abbottstown will provide a luncheon for all teachers attending the Institute.

THEY NEVER FAIL.

That is What They Say About Them in Gettysburg, and It Is Therefore, Reliable.
 Another proof, more evidence, Gettysburg testimony to swell the long list of local people who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convincing endorsement of that remarkable preparation: Mrs. Frank Tawney, 27 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "My son suffered from kidney disease since infancy and probably inherited the trouble. He complained of severe pains in his back and sides, his kidneys were very weak and at times he had but little control over the secretions. Any cold he caught always settled in his kidneys and caused him intense suffering. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at the People's Drug Store and upon using them my son improved rapidly. When he had finished the contents of one box, he was without a sign of kidney complaint. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other persons suffering from the same affliction."

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY FOR PIMPLES.
 It is surprising how quickly and easily pimples and black-heads can be cured with the following prescription, which was made known to the public a short time ago by a celebrated specialist on skin diseases, now retired, who used it in a long and successful practice with wonderful results. To use his own words: "There is nothing yet discovered that can compare with it for promptly removing pimples, eczema, black-heads, blotches, red face and noses, and in fact any disease of the skin; it also destroys the germ that causes the disease and makes the cure permanent." Following is the prescription, which can be prepared at a small cost: Clearola one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces. Mix, shake well and apply night and morning, letting it remain on the face for ten or fifteen minutes then it can be wiped off. Do not use any soap, use instead a little oat meal tied up in a cheese cloth bag.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

They Clog the Pores—Only a Liquid Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. After ten years of cure after cure, the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure.

We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special offer now. This first bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and, at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once. People's Drug Store.

We Shoot Out 75 Pounds Nearly Every Minute

Each mammoth gun, at each discharge, shoots out 75 pounds of Puffed Wheat or Puffed Rice.

And a gun, to meet the present demand, must be shot about every minute.

For, last month, seventeen million meals were served of these new, enticing foods.

If your folks like what most folks like, they'll enjoy these gigantic grains.

Puffed Wheat—10c

These are the foods invented by Prof. Anderson, and this is his curious process:

The whole wheat or rice kernels are put into sealed guns. Then the guns are revolved for sixty minutes in a heat of 550 degrees.

That fierce heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes tremendous.

Crisp and nut-like—four times as porous as bread. Grains that melt in the mouth.

There is nothing else to compare with them. No cereal food half so good.

When you try them, you'll be glad that we told you about them. And your folks will be glad.

Don't wait longer. Order one package. Submit it to a vote of your table.

Puffed Rice—15c

SCIENTIFICALLY PASTEURIZED MILK

An un-pasteurized milk is of DOUBTFUL PURITY, to say the least.

It costs money to properly pasteurize milk. Some dealers don't want to spend that money for their customers' protection.

The Gettysburg Ice & Storage Dairy spends it cheerfully—in its own interest and in yours.

Pasteurizing milk does not alter its quality—does not influence its richness—does not lessen its food value and digestibility.

Pasteurizing milk simply insures its Purity. All milk is daily inspected upon arrival at the distributing plant and must be up to the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company standard of richness, cleanness, and perfect chemical constituents. It is passed through a scientific pasteurizer we have the most perfect pasteurizer outside of Philadelphia, and then bottled direct from the pasteurizing tank and capped—making it germ proof upon delivery to the customer.

Gettysburg Ice and Storage Milk is sold only in bottles and every bottle is twice scoured, jetted with boiling water four times and steamed by a specially constructed apparatus before filling.

Gettysburg Ice and Storage Milk sells for 6 cts. a quart. Buying it means health, protection for family and yourself.

LINCOLN PARTY MEN SAY THEY MAY SUE Harrisburg Republican Office Holders Steal Appellation of Another Party.

MUST DROP CLAIM OR SUFFER

Real Lincoln Party Men Want to Make Proper Use of Their Name,
But Are Foiled by Trick of Republican Machine Emisaries.

The desperate straits to which the Republican machine has been reduced is revealed in a trick which has just been exposed at Harrisburg. A few days ago members of the Lincoln Party went to the state capital with the view of preempting the name under which they have been trying to reform some of the abuses in Philadelphia for three or four years and discovered that others had been there before them and taken the name.

Of course they were greatly surprised at this turn of affairs and set about to ascertain who the parties who had thus taken liberties with their party appellation are and what purpose they have in mind. They discovered that the pre-emptors in this case are a lot of Dauphin county office holders, the purpose of whom is not to use the name for the purpose of promoting reform, but to prevent others from doing that. It was a scurvy trick.

That these machine politicians are likely to get into trouble as a result of their trick may be inferred from the following dispatch from Harrisburg. In preempting a party appellation it is necessary for the petitioners to swear that they are members of that party if it is a party already in existence. If the Harrisburg office holders have taken such an oath they have simply perjured themselves and ought to be prosecuted and punished for the crime.

Following is the dispatch:

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—Some of the party workers of the Republican ranks in Harrisburg who are on the court house pay roll as office attaches are liable to get into trouble if certain contemplated proceedings are carried out by men connected with what was known as the Lincoln party.

It appears that some of the Independent Republicans in the state intended to get out a state ticket under the appellation Lincoln for the purpose of placing the Democratic state candidates on it all over the state, and in Philadelphia placing the names of the Penn. party county candidates under the same heading.

But their intentions were foiled for the time, for on looking up information they discovered that the party appellation of Lincoln had already been pre-empted by a party of Harrisburg officeholders who draw salaries at the court house.

On July 12, 1909, five officeholders filed notice in the office of the prothonotary and also at the state department, that they had pre-empted the name of Lincoln party for the purpose of making nominations of state candidates to be voted for at the general election in November.

These facts being ascertained by the real Lincoln party, the latter is now considering the matter of bringing suit to compel the officeholders to abandon their claim to the party appellation of Lincoln and also of beginning a criminal suit for perjury, alleging that when the application was made the above-mentioned parties swore that they adopted the name Lincoln with a view of having the exclusive right to use it in the state at the general election next November and of "making nominations of candidates to be voted for at said election."

On the part of the original Lincoln party men it is claimed that the men who have taken their party name have not nominated a state or any other ticket, and when they swore that they intended to do so they had no idea of carrying out their declaration, thereby making themselves amenable to the law. A number of the original Lincoln party people have been consulting with a view to beginning proceedings and should they begin they will push matters to a finish.

Recalls an Old Story.
The president believes that the Payne tariff is the best tariff ever enacted: which recalls the old story of the man who approached Sydney Smith with the remark, "Mr. Robinson, I believe," "Sir," was the reply,
"if you believe that you will believe anything."—Providence Journal.

Be sure to pay a state of county tax before the 2d of October if you have not paid such a tax within two years.
It is the duty and ought to be the desire of every citizen to vote, and no man can exercise that privilege unless he has complied with the requirements of the law with respect to paying taxes.

Taft a Practical Politician.
President Roosevelt said, "You and I are practical men." But it remained for President Taft to say to the multitude, "My party and I are practical politicians." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

President Taft is so careless about keeping promises that he has become reckless in making them. But after his action on the tariff question it really makes little difference what promises he makes.

His Unlucky Day.

"I tell you what it is," said an old gin any enterprise, no matter how everything goes wrong.

"Take the record of last Monday, a fair average, and be convinced: Smashed finger while nailing board on fence.
Fell down cellar stairs with coal scuttle. Fell over wheelbarrow while carrying stepladder. Sat down on chair supper square yard of ceiling fell on dining table. Went to bed to escape further disaster. Had nightmare.

Thought I was falling from top of Eiffel tower. Fell out of bed and broke arm. Looked at clock and saw it lacked fifteen minutes of midnight.
Lay still till clock struck 12. Was afraid if I moved before Tuesday was ushered in would have broken neck.
Yes, indeed," concluded the man,
"Monday is my unlucky day, and I

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

Governors of Pennsylvania

HENRY MARTYN HOYT—1879-1883.

The army record of Henry Martyn Hoyt had much to do with his election as chief executive of the state. Born of English parentage in 1830 at Kingston, he was graduated in 1849 at Williams college. He turned his attention to the study of law and in 1853 was admitted to the bar in Luzerne county. Upon the outbreak of the civil war he raised a regiment, the Fifty-second Pennsylvania volunteers, and was commissioned lieutenant colonel. Two years later he was made colonel. At the close of the war he was brevetted brigadier general. In 1875 he was made chairman of the Republican state committee. He was elected governor in 1878 upon a "sound money" issue. He served one term of four years, his being the first administration under the constitution of 1873, which provided that the term of governor should be four years and that a governor could not succeed himself in office.

JUDITH IN MACKFORD'S ENTRY

BY GRACE RHYS

(Copyright, by J. B. Lippincott Co.)

Judith was walking home through the Gartra meadows, a market-basket of yellow daffodils upon her arm.

She paused in the middle of the meadow and setting down her basket at her feet, stood to look about her. The check shawl had fallen back from her head and there was still light enough abroad to illuminate her pale, smoothly cut face and the coiled bronze of her hair.

Her unconscious attitude was a strange one for so young a girl—her head thrown up, with her nostrils wide arched and both hands clutching the bosom of her old drab gown.

Then she started over the field once more, crossed a stile, then through a wood and over a stone wall and a bit down a rutty road to her grandfather's cabin.

He was sitting in his usual place by the fire, a little, weakened old man with a broken-spouted teapot held firmly between his knees.

"Ye're a long while comin'," he said to her. "Put them trash outside for the night and get the tay."

Judith threw off her shawl and went obediently about her tasks. When her back was turned the old man hid the teapot in a hole in the wall.

"Judith," said he as he mumbled his bread, "what does Miss McCraw want for the body?"

"Five shillings," answered Judith. "Holy Powers!" said the old man, rocking himself, "where'll I get all that to lend ye? But ye'll not disremember to pay me back, honey, and the 10 shillin's a week as well?"

"No, grandada," said Judith absently. Presently he set about dragging a greatly tattered letter from his breeches pocket.

"Thirty shillin's a week at the flower sellin'," said he. "Saints above, it's a fortune. It was wonderful kind of yer old aunt's niece to think of ye, Judith." He went on, peering down at the scrawled paper by the light of the fire.

MACKFORD'S ENTRY.

Soho London.

That'll be a grand place. Parks and palaces, no less; and the lord mayor and queen ridin' in gold coach all to their selves. Them's the kind of things ye'll be seein' of a mornin'! It's a lady ye'll be in no time, Judith. But you won't forget the 10 shillin's a week for yer grandada, or maybe 15, will ye now, agna?"

"Fifteen, if ye like, grandada," said the girl, lifting her brooding head. "But what at all will ye do by yourself when I'm gone? I'd rather go to me grave than be goin' among strangers as I am."

"Whisht with yer talkin'," said he. "Don't I tell ye it's a lady ye'll be? Get up out of that at wanst and go feed the little pig."

At nine o'clock the old man climbed up to his sleeping-loft, heaped with his queer old man's treasures, and Judith was free to go to her little room, where she had slept every night for 20 innocent years. It was carefully neat; the patchwork-quilted bed was poor and clean; the earthen floor was fresh swept; at the foot of the wooden bed stood a table spread with crocheted work on which was placed Judith's mass-book and three small white plaster images of Christ, the Virgin and St. Joseph. Beside the image of the virgin was a little cup of late

Judith stood before the table with clasped, quivering hands. Her whole nature, wild, reserved and shy, was protesting against this sudden uprooting forced upon her by an old man's covetousness. No blossoming plant torn up violently by the roots could have felt a more surprising pang than she, as she stood there, her bosom heaving, her long, supple fingers wreathing in and out.

She did not want to be a lady, or to stand behind a counter in a shop in a grand street, like Miss Pandey, who sold calico and groceries in Trasnaw town. Wood and field, morning and night, the changing winds and her liberty and her long prayers in the quiet, that was all she wanted. The faces of strangers had always been a terror to her.

It was late when at last, worn out by the passion of the day, she lay down on her bed, to sleep for the last time in the deep stillness of her native place.

It was a gusty April evening when Judith stood uncertainly at the corner of Moor street, Soho. Straws and dust and paper turned in the wind at her feet. The dingy crowd hurried ceaselessly past her. Not a soul stopped or gave her good night.

With wandering eyes she began to move slowly down the street, her shawl pulled over her head according to her country habit.

At last Judith stood in Mackford's Entry.

Panting with weariness and fear, she gazed about her. Refuse lay about the narrow, paved court. On either side the sombre houses towered about her, hiding the sky.

But there was still some courage of hope left in her heart. She turned and entered the dark doorway and slowly began to mount the stairs. It was almost dark in the house and her unaccustomed feet stumbled and slipped on the dirty steps. From above she heard cries and voices whose tones were new to her: never had she heard the like.

At the top of the first flight she halted and stood waiting at the nearest door, not daring to knock. A hag with a face like a mask suddenly opened, looked her up and down, then spat at her feet and shut the door again.

A man passed her on the stairs and she found breath to ask him for Mrs. Dowdall.

"The lady in the hattick?" he said with a grin. "Up at the top. Ye can't miss them. They're making noise enough."

Judith climbed on and on. Her head was giddy, her free hand clutched the broken rail, her feet caught in the broken steps.

She stood at last at a door at the top. Loud noises were inside. She knocked softly again and again and at last it was suddenly opened. The air within, like a solid wall of impurity, stayed her at the threshold. But a strong arm pulled her in and a loud laugh greeted her, and a voice that had some echo of her home in it spoke in her ear:

"So here ye are at last with the shawl and the bundle. Arrah, how did ye lave the pig at home? Laws, it's 20 years or more since I laid eyes on such a walkin' country innocent. Come in till we look at ye. I declare ye'd do anybody's heart good."

Inside, the room was long and low and seemed full of people. A fire burned in a little grate and two oil lamps were hooked on the wall. Beds and heaps of dark-colored bedding lay in the corners. The walls were black, the ceiling was black, the floor was black. Judith gazed round upon the faces, despair settling down upon her. Villainous eyes answered to hers. She was come into one of London's myriad foul dens.

She was turning faint and giddy when an oldish man came near to her and pulled the shawl from her head.

"It's a bloomin' buttercup," he said drunkenly and threw an arm about her.

Judith turned and struck him savagely, so that he reeled.

The loud laughter suddenly ceased. "Not much of a buttercup about that one!" said a monstrous carter who sat by the fire. "It's a bloody wild hawk. Turn her out, I say!"

Judith backed against the wall, and from that moment her agony began.

Against the wall she stood, her head bare, her wide-open eyes turned upon the black ceiling, her white face staring, lost. She knew herself in mortal plight.

Rough kindness did not move her. Laughter, abuse and buffetings had no effect. Invisible chains seemed to pin her upright in her place.

Night drew down and still she stood there. Noxious insects ran upon walls and ceiling and dropped upon her hair. Noxious human creatures made the night a loud, evil dream. The air became more stifling in its foulness, but she still held herself erect against the wall.

Morning came and the day and night again, and do what they could she would neither eat nor drink, nor could they pull her from her place.

What of evil the girl heard or saw during those long hours cannot be known. The angel of innocence surely laid his hand upon her eyeballs that she might not see and upon the doors of her ears that she might not hear.

Like one possessed who strove with phantoms, she still stared upward, her lips sometimes moving as she said her "Our Father which art in heaven."

For two days and two nights she stood there, without food or drink, crazed with fear, like some wild creature new taken, but all the while her heart was imploring help from heaven.

On the afternoon of the third day she saw the Virgin in a white robe standing in the door and beckoning to her with a smile. With a sudden movement she snatched her shawl and fled with great swiftness from the room, down the long stairs and out into the street.

In a moment every trace of her was gone from Mackford's Entry. She was swallowed up in the hosts of the city, as a ripple is overridden by the following tide.

The dawn wind was rocking the flowers of the Gartra meadows as a gaunt figure crept and stumbled along the path. Sweet odors mounted and were spread upon the air.

Judith paused upon the spot where she had stood still five weeks before. Here nothing had passed but the soft change of leaf and blossom. Only upon herself had change been sore. She was haggard, ragged, with bleeding feet.

Like a dog she had been hunted, like a dog she was creeping home.

When the old man opened the door that morning Judith was sitting there against the house-wall. Her head had fallen back in her sleep and her lips were so blue in the sunlight and her features so pinched and white that the old man made sure that she was not dead.

He was softened by the sight and when he had fetched the nearest neighbors Judith was by them tended and with kindness put into her own bed.

She lay for long enough and her pillow was often wet with tears, for she was come to the last of her strength and her wild heart was wounded almost to death.

In time she recovered through the peace and quiet of the place and was at last able to take up her old life with thankfulness again.

She never would tell what she had seen nor how without money she had crossed the sea and traveled the country's breadth. "Sure, I was barished; but there was a miracle in it," was all she would say, or, "I went out of me senses, but there was a Protection over me."

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII. OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing amendments to sections eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections two, three, and four of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing a schedule for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following are proposed as amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment One—To Article Four, Section Eight.
Section 2. Amend section eight of article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania which reads as follows:—
"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within three calendar months immediately preceding such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal," so as to read as follows:—
"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal."

Amendment Two—To Article Four, Section Twenty-one.
Section 3. Amend section twenty-one of article four, which reads as follows:—
"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms."

Amendment Three—To Article Five, Section Eleven.
Section 4. Amend section eleven of article five, which reads as follows:—
"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships, by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years."

Amendment Four—To Article Five, Section Twelve.
Section 5. Amend section twelve of article five of the Constitution, which reads as follows:—
"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be six years and they shall be elected on general ticket by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished," so as to read as follows:—

Amendment Five—To Article Eight, Section Two.
Section 6. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:—
"The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:—
"The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year."

Amendment Six—To Article Eight, Section Three.
Section 7. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows:—
"All elections for city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the third Tuesday of February," so as to read:—
"All Judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year."

Amendment Seven—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen.
Section 8. Amend section fourteen of article eight, which reads as follows:—
"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest on days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:—
"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only: Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service."

Amendment Eight—To Article Twelve, Section One.
Section 9. Amend section one, article twelve, which reads as follows:—
"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—
"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms."

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen, Section Two.
Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—
"County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of three years beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—
"County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law."

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen, Section Seven.
Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:—
"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:—
"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled."

Schedule for the Amendments.
In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.
The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.
In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.
All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.
All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service."

Amendment Eight—To Article Twelve, Section One.
Section 9. Amend section one, article twelve, which reads as follows:—
"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—
"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms."

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen, Section Two.
Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—
"County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of three years beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—
"County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law."

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen, Section Seven.
Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:—
"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:—
"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled."

Schedule for the Amendments.
In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.
The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.
In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.
All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.
All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

GUFFEY APPEALS TO DEMOCRATS

Urges Personal and Political Friends to Energetic Effort.

ASKS EARNEST SUPPORT

National Committeeman Declares Democratic Ticket Will Command and Receive the Independent Vote.

The Democratic campaign is being conducted this year with a degree of vigor which is as unusual as it is promising of victory. During last week, it is reported, 100,000 pieces of mail matter were sent out from the headquarters of the state committee at Harrisburg, and it is believed that a greater quantity of campaign literature will go out this week. The Democrats are determined to elect their excellent ticket.

One of the most important pieces of campaign literature sent out thus far is a personal letter of Colonel James M. Guffey, member of the Democratic national committee, to the active workers of the state. Colonel Guffey, in characteristic language, appeals to his Democratic friends to supplement the work of the state and county organization with energetic individual effort. In other words, in terse and forceful periods, he urges Democratic workers to actively support the admirable candidates nominated on the 4th of August, which he believes "will command and receive large and valuable support from the independent voters of the state."

There is no doubt in the minds of any of the intelligent observers of the work of the campaign that the trend of public sentiment is toward the Democratic ticket. The forces which revolutionized the politics of the state in the election of William H. Berry are again in action. The conditions which gave the Democratic candidate for state treasurer a large majority in Philadelphia four years ago are present in that city now, and the opportunities for defeating the will of the people by frauds at the polls are vastly diminished. In Pittsburgh the machine is in confusion and almost in despair. All that is necessary to secure a glorious victory is for the Democrats to do their duty.

The Republican candidates are a menace to the interests of the people. A. E. Sisson and J. A. Stober have been for years servile slaves of the machine. If a man of their type had been nominated for governor three years ago he would have been defeated by an overwhelming majority. Even two years ago if J. A. Stober had been nominated for state treasurer the majority of his opponent would have been 100,000. What gave the machine managers the confidence which made them daring this year? Simply they believe that the people have forgotten the exposures of graft operations made in 1906 and since. They believe that the memory of the shame of the capitol construction and furnishing no longer abides in the public mind.

If the Republican candidate for state treasurer had been elected in 1905, when William H. Berry was chosen, the building and furnishing of the state capitol would have cost $25,000,000 by this time and the people never would have known that they were being robbed. If Sisson and Stober are elected this year, the plundering will be resumed and the revenues of the state will be diverted to the pockets of the grafters. On the other hand, if J. Wood Clark is placed in the office of auditor general and George W. Kipp in that of state treasurer, there will be new revelations of official dishonesty in the past which will astound the country. The whole truth has not been told.

We do not allege or even insinuate that there has been any grafting since the present governor, auditor general and state treasurer were inducted into their respective offices. But we do believe that they have concealed facts which ought to have been exposed and know that they have not been zealous in bringing the offenders to punishment. It is nearly two years since four of the grafters were convicted in the Dauphin county court. Two of these men have since died natural deaths, and it looks as if the others will have an opportunity to die of old age before punishment is meted out to them. For these reasons we believe that all of the graft business will not be known until the offices of auditor general and state treasurer are filled by Democrats.

The text of Colonel Guffey's letter follows:

Democratic National Committee,
Office of the Member From Pennsylvania,
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 9, 1909.

My Dear Sir:

The action of the Democratic State Convention, on the 4th of August last, when candidates were nominated for the offices of Auditor General, State Treasurer and Supreme Court Justice, has met with unqualified approval throughout the state.

The convention was actuated by one idea—to name candidates of unquestioned integrity and ability for these three most important positions. As a result of this, your candidates will command and receive large and valuable support from the independent voters of the state.

With this sentiment prevailing this ticket ought to be elected, and it will be the fault of the Democrats if it is not.

The State Central Committee and the county organizations are actively at work, but in order to have success in November, we must poll the Democratic vote, and this can only be accomplished through individual work. With this in view, I am writing you the situation and the importance of this campaign, and I ask from you and your friends your earnest and active support for the ticket, and to assure you in making this request, that your efforts will be appreciated not alone by the Candidates and the Party but by me personally. Very truly yours,
J. M. GUFFEY.

STOBER AND SISSON

Self-Respect On the Part of Voters Should Make Their Election Impossible.

[From the Philadelphia Record.]

Everybody in this state knows what sort of men were selected by the state machine for state offices up to 1905. The investigation of the capitol frauds disclosed that. Two of them are already under conviction of swindling the state in that tremendous enterprise of fraud.

In 1905, although the capitol disclosures had not then been made, the people of this state were sufficiently aroused to the sort of candidates the state machine was putting up to defeat the Republican candidate for state treasurer and elect Mr. Berry. He looked out for the public interests. He paid over the school funds promptly. Instead of holding them back so that the bank depositories could have the use of the money, he scrutinized bills. Best of all, he lifted the cover from the colossal swindling that had been practiced in building the capitol.

Two years ago the state machine nominated John O. Sheatz, who is far superior to the men it is accustomed to select for office. He had dared to oppose the gang occasionally. Nothing on earth would have led the gang to nominate such a man except fear of another defeat.

The state machine has recovered its courage and its impudence. It has nominated a couple of men of precisely the same class as the men it had been in the habit of nominating up to 1905. They are its subservient tools. They stop at nothing that the bosses demand. They labored for Quay's reelection, and they supported the jury bill that was expected to protect Quay on his trial. They supported the "Pittsburg Ripper," which the supreme court declared unconstitutional, in the most infamous session of the legislature we have suffered. They supported the Salts-Grady press muzzle, which a subsequent legislature was shamed into repealing. They supported the street railway franchise robbery of 1901. Sisson antagonized the bill to make $35 the minimum salary for school teachers. They opposed efforts to improve the Focht ballot law. They defended the "assistance clause which enabled a candidate to enter to take a message into the booth with him in order to give evidence that he had earned his bribe. They voted for a bill that would have given State Treasurer Mathews a salary of $10,000 a year. They have supported any and all legislation demanded by the gang of this city to make it easier to corrupt the ballot box and to get money out of the city treasury.

Stober and Sisson are typical members of the state machine, typical tools of the bosses who have made the government of this state notorious and who have worked in harmony with the "corrupt and criminal combination" in this city. Ordinarily self-respect on the part of the voters of Pennsylvania should make their election impossible. The voters who defeated J. Lee Plummer should send Stober and Sisson to meet him.

RECREANT PUBLIC OFFICIAL

District Attorney's Office Consented to "Fixing" a Jury to Acquit Salter.

[From the BeBlount Watchman.]

It appears that Robert Von Moschizker was an assistant district attorney in Philadelphia at the time that Samuel Salter was tried and acquitted for stuffing ballot boxes in Philadelphia. Salter had previously confessed his guilt and became a fugitive from justice. The evidence against him was overwhelming. A Philadelphia newspaper had employed a man to offer his services to Salter as an election officer and Salter had engaged him. Subsequently in his presence Salter had caused to be put into the ballot box 200 fraudulent ballots and the detective election officer exposed the crime. Salter went to Mexico and remained until after John Weaver had been indicted district attorney and Von Moschizker appointed one of his assistants.

During an acrimonious dispute between John Weaver and the leaders of the Philadelphia Republican machine, after Weaver had abandoned the machine and gone in for reform, the machine leaders charged that the jury had been fixed, with the knowledge and consent of the district attorney's office, to acquit Salter. This accusation, which has never been denied, supported by a strong chain of circumstances, evidence, John Weaver was soon after promoted to the office of mayor and was said to have been slated to succeed Pennypacker in the office of governor of the state. One of the assistant district attorneys, Norris S. Barrett, was promoted to a seat on the common pleas bench of the city and at the next vacancy on the bench Robert Von Moschizker was similarly honored.

It is hard to imagine a crime of greater turpitude than that of a lawyer betraying his client. But there is a greater crime. It is the betrayal of a trust by a public official, and if the accusation be true that the Philadelphia machine induced, by any means, the public prosecutors of Philadelphia to permit a miscarriage of justice in the Salter case by allowing the jury to be packed for the purpose of acquitting him, the acme of official recidivism was reached. The manifest misdeed of the Salter case, the acquittal of that self-confessed ballot box stuffer, and the subsequent honor bestowed upon the then district attorney and his assistants, combine to form a group of facts sufficient to convince the most incredulous.

Are the people of Pennsylvania ready to further compensate a recreant official for his turpitude? The Republican machine has nominated a Robert Von Moschizker the assistant district attorney of Philadelphia for a seat on the bench of the highest court of the state. His record affirms the constitutionality of the judicial salary bill of 1903 is ample proof of his professional unfitness for the place and his recreancy in the office of district attorney proves his moral delinquency. For these reasons he ought to be defeated by an overwhelming majority and we have faith enough in the intelligence and integrity of the people to believe that such will be the result of the vote at the coming election in November.

PHILADELPHIA DEMOCRATS GREET MR. MUNSON

Reception Was Given Him in Quaker City—He is Pleased With the Outlook.

A reception was given by many prominent Democrats to their nominee for justice of the supreme court, Cyrus LaRue Munson, in the headquarters of the Democratic city committee, Philadelphia, Monday afternoon. Mr. Munson went there from Atlantic City, and after spending half of the day with the Philadelphia Democrats, returned to the coal region, where he had many gatherings last week. He made no formal speech, as he had decided that propriety demanded from him an avoidance of partisanship, but as he explained, he wanted to show his fellow Democrats his appreciation of the honor which they had bestowed upon him in the nomination for the highest judicial tribunal in the state.

In addition to all the members of the city committee, with the ward chairmen, under the direction of City Chairman John O'Donnell, the gathering included scores of Democrats who dropped into the rooms between 2 and 4 o'clock. Most of them remained only long enough to shake hands with Mr. Munson and wish him success. The nominee, in a few informal remarks, said that he had received so much encouragement in the interior of the state from independents as well as his own solid party, that he now believed "it is up to Philadelphia" to decide the election in the whole state.

Mr. Munson added that he found old animosities buried by Democrats in the many counties that he had visited, and he believed there was a new era close ahead. "I believe," Mr. Munson said, "that the Democratic party of Pennsylvania is in better condition today than it has been in since 1895 or 1896." This, he thought, would be shown, "if not fully in the coming election, at least in the not distant future."

What Was the Governor's Reasons?

Governor Pennypacker must have had some grave reason for refusing to appoint Robert Von Moschizker to the vacancy on the bench of Philadelphia upon the death of the late Judge McCarthy. Governor Pennypacker is a strong partisan. He believes with Taft in the "solidarity" of the party and would probably make any reasonable sacrifice, or would then when he was in public life and still aspiring. But he absolutely refused to oblige his friends, Israel W. Durham, James P. McNichol and Dave Lane, by appointing their man to the bench.

Governor Pennypacker has often written entertainingly. His style is unique and fascinating and his erudition makes whatever he writes interesting. It is safe to say, however, that he has never written anything that so absorbed public interest in Pennsylvania as the statement he might write on the subject of why he was so determined in his opposition to placing Robert Von Moschizker on the bench in Philadelphia. Of course, he was not influenced by any trivial reason. If the gentleman had aspired to an office of less dignity and importance, an unimportant reason would serve. But with respect to the bench it is different.

In the absence of a statement on the subject from Governor Pennypacker any conjecture may be advanced, moreover, which is an additional reason that he should speak. He was a member of the district attorney's staff when James P. McNichol alleges that office was prostituted to the basest uses that can be imagined. He was assistant district attorney when McNichol says that office was bribed to consent to fixing a jury to acquit a ballot box stuffer. Can it be that Pennypacker refused to appoint him judge on that account.

Importance of Registration.

It is not generally known to the voters of the cities that the present registration will be used by the election officers to conduct the primaries to be held in June, 1910, when a governor, congressmen, representatives in the legislature and an important county ticket is to be nominated. If, therefore, your name is not on the registry list this fall, you cannot participate in the selection of those important officials in June. Voters in cities of the third class have one more chance to set themselves right for next year's primaries. Don't "overlook the bet."

Injustice to Mr. Aldrich.

The Albany Argus insults Mr. Aldrich by calling it "the tariff law that nobody likes." Mr. Aldrich, who made it, feels that he is somebody, and that those for whom he made it constitute everybody who is anybody.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Facts to Keep in Mind.

Those New Bedford operatives who are demanding an increase in wages should remember that the tariff is designed to raise the price of almost everything except labor.—Providence Tribune.

The Records of Congress Contradict.

Senator Gore insists that the west is the real seat of governmental power. The trouble is to make Rhode Island see it that way.—Kansas City Star.

A tax receipt obtained last fall will serve to qualify you to register and vote this fall. If you haven't paid taxes this fall look up your last year's receipt.

MACHINE'S HALCYON SESSION OF 1905

Boas Mansion Converted Into a "House of Mirth" in Harrisburg.

PARTY BOSSES PLAN INQUIRY

Senators Sisson and Stober, Republican Candidates, Supported All the Vicious Legislation That Made the Session of 1905 Infamous.

The legislature of 1905 was a "halcyon and vociferous" affair. In imitation of the Albany "House of Mirth," the Boas mansion in Harrisburg was generously contributing to the "gayety of nations" during that session. Under the control of the insurance commissioner it was a sort of kennel of "yellow dogs" of all sorts and conditions. Each night the gang assembled within its hospitable walls and planned and schemed the looting operations of the immediate future. It was the seat of revelry and a fountain of corruption.

The legislature of 1905 has gone into history as the most wanton and venal in the history of the state. Its work was so bad that Governor Pennypacker felt constrained to call it back to repeat most of its measures, and the men responsible for its iniquities obeyed orders to thus stultify themselves with the same servility that they accepted orders to pass the bills at the regular session. This feature of the legislature of 1905 has no parallel. No other legislature within the memory of man has such a record.

The legislature of 1905 was as eager to defeat good legislation as it was zealous in promoting bad. Few good bills got out of committee, and such as did were allowed to die on the calendar. Early in the session Senator Goehring, of Pittsburg, introduced a bill providing for civil service tests in the selection of state officers, but it was stifled in the committee. Mr. Edmiston, of Bradford, introduced a bill requiring that anthracite coal offered for sale in the state be 95 per cent pure, and it met the same fate.

There were a good many other measures which would have conserved the interests of the people if they had been enacted into laws. But they were all killed before that stage, at which a roll call is in order, was reached. Under such conditions the action of a particular senator upon such bills is left to conjecture. But the managers of the dominant party were against such legislation or it would have passed. Senators Sisson and Stober invariably voted as the machine manager directed, and it is safe to say that they were against the bills that failed.

No Uncertainty on Vicious Bills.

But there is no uncertainty as to how the Republican candidates for auditor general and state treasurer voted on the vicious legislation projected and promoted by the machine. The bill to increase the number of bank examiners, for example, was supported by both of them. Senate Journal, 1905 page 308.

One of the principal jobs of the session was the "act to amend an act relating to the board of public grounds and buildings." Upon this measure Mr. Sisson and Mr. Stober voted in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, page 842. In vetoing this bill Governor Pennypacker said: "The effect of this bill, if it became a law, would be to authorize the board of public grounds and buildings to engage the services of 132 new employees. The amount of their salary and compensation, together with the increases of salaries and compensations of persons now employed, would amount to the sum of $216,960 for the ensuing two years." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 158.

A bill to increase the number of courts in Allegheny county was voted for by both Sisson and Stober. Senate Journal, 1905, page 358. This measure was also vetoed by Governor Pennypacker, who said in his message: "The effect of this bill would be to increase the number of judges in Allegheny county from nine to fifteen and to lead to an expenditure in salaries alone of the annual sum of $51,000." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 18.

Bills were passed providing for additional law judges in Cambria county. Senate Journal, 1905, page 888, and in Erie county. Senate Journal, 1905, page 492. Sisson and Stober voting for both of them.

The machine majority in the legislature is always open-handed with the judges, but during the session of 1905 it was liberal with everybody. A bill providing for stenographers and assistant stenographers for courts was passed finally on Feb. 23, Sisson and Stober voting in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, pages 556-557. It was subsequently vetoed by Governor Pennypacker on the ground that "it would be an attempt upon the part of the legislature and the governor to exercise control over the courts." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 24.

Corporations Favored Freely.

An act declaring valid and enforceable as to any right of escheat in this commonwealth was voted for by both Sisson and Stober. Senate Journal, 1905, page 891. This measure also tell a victim to Governor Pennypacker's veto axe. In his veto message the governor said: "To permit corporations, organized for reasons given above in other states, to hold real estate and do business here, would be in effect to nullify, indirectly, our own laws. This bill presents to such corporations an easy means of escape from the disabilities imposed upon them." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 30.

The legislature revealed its subservience to the railroad corporations in the passage of the act "in relation to railroads under lease, and saving their charters and franchises from forfeiture or impairment in case of failure of their lessees to maintain and operate any portion of their lines." This was a slimy and venomous legislative snake. It would have enabled big railroad corporations to get rid of any branch or troublesome small railroad at the trifling expense of the cost of leasing it. Under existing law failure to operate a piece of railroad for two years works the forfeiture of the franchise, and communities damaged by being deprived of railroad facilities to which they are entitled could build a new branch and connect with another road. But this bill would have given the big concern power to close up the smaller road permanently. It was passed by the senate finally on March 31, Sisson and Stober voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 850. Governor Pennypacker vetoed it. Vetoes of the governor, 1905, page 66.

One of the most absurd bills considered during the session was one authorizing coroners in counties of population between 100,000 and 125,000 to employ stenographers at a compensation of $6 a day. Both Sisson and Stober voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1670. Fortunately it was vetoed.

Another legislative absurdity was a bill providing for the draining of swampy lands, and both Sisson and Stober voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1031. In vetoing this preposterous proposition Governor Pennypacker said that owners of swampy lands ought to pay the expenses of their own improvements, and that if the measure should become a law it would clandestinely bestow upon the owners of the land the right of eminent domain. Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 44.

A Ripper in Disguise.

The bill to provide for the employment and support of the poor in Schuylkill county was a sort of "ripper" in disguise. The obvious purpose of it was to legislate out of office the directors of the poor of that county, and it only failed of its purpose because Governor Pennypacker had a lucid interval. Sisson and Stober voted for the bill. Senate Journal, 1905, page 897. Governor Pennypacker disapproved it because it deprived the people of their right to elect their own local officers. Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 52.

There were a number of water snakes wriggling through the legislature during the session of 1905. The machine managers, rich in spoils, had come to realize the vast value of water powers and were striving to get control of all that were available. The railroad corporations were also reaching out for control of watersheds and water supplies.

Among the bills introduced with this object in view was one "authorizing railroad companies to acquire, hold, dispose of and guarantee the stocks and securities of water companies." In the event of a water famine this measure would enable the railroad companies to supply their locomotives even if the people of communities famished. Sisson and Stober voted to bestow this dangerous power on railroads. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1158.

The bill entitled "an act to preserve the purity of the water of the state" was another serpent. It provided that consent of the board of health should be obtained before any community or company could erect water works. The inquiry was fought with considerable energy and was supported at every stage by Sisson and Stober. On final passage, however, Sisson dodged the roll call, but Stober is recorded as voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 998.

The gang didn't feel quite secure with the legislation thus far obtained and Senator McNichol, the Philadelphia contractor-politician, introduced a bill to create a commission to regulate the water supply and control the watersheds of the state. This measure was railroad through at a high rate of speed. It was "read in place" March 15 and passed finally March 22, Sisson and Stober both voting in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, page 901.

Pet Iniquities of the Machine.

The Philadelphia "rippers" were pet iniquities of the machine. John Weaver, who had been promoted from the office of district attorney to that of mayor as a reward for permitting Sam Salter to be acquitted, was indulging in some insincere reform pretences and the machine concluded to "clip his wings," so to speak. The "rippers" provided for the election of the heads of certain departments by a vote of councils, which under the then existing law were appointed by the mayor. It might be said that this was "the crowning atrocity" of the session. There were three of these bills, numbered respectively 441, 479 and 480. The two latter were so vicious that Pennypacker vetoed them. Both were voted for by Sisson and Stober, however. Senate Journal, 1905, pages 1282 and 1284. It was in this veto message that Pennypacker enlorged the late Mr. Durham as "the most influential political leader in Philadelphia." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 167.

A merry little joker of the session was the bill increasing the salary of the deputy insurance commissioner. Mr. Durham was insurance commissioner at the time, but he was so busy managing the politics and "milking" the people of that city that he couldn't get to Harrisburg oftener than once in two or three months. The warrants for his salary had actually to be sent to him by mail. This absenteeism devolved a good deal of additional labor on the deputy, and Mr. Durham's servile slaves in the legislature naturally concluded that his recompense ought to be increased in the ratio that his burdens were multiplied. Sisson and Stober voted for the bill. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1689.

The Quay statue bill was "the apple of the eye" of the machine at the time and ever since has been the burden of its grief and an abomination. Sisson and Stober both voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1589.

The act authorizing street railway, electric light and power, hotel and park companies to merge or consolidate, was a sort of tub to the smaller corporation whale. There are a number of men in the cities, tin-horn gamblers, thimble-riggers and other sorts, who go to the legislature or ply their vocations in the winter, and imagined that such a combination of powers would afford them splendid opportunities in the summer. These gentlemen proposed to legislate themselves into the chance. The bill was introduced and passed, Sisson and Stober voting in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1590. Pennypacker vetoed the bill.

Snakes In the Legislative Grass.

Another snake in the legislative grass was the bill authorizing manufacturing corporations to deal in goods and materials manufactured by others. It was in direct violation of the constitution, the spirit of the common law and the traditions of the country. Sisson and Stober voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 895. The bill was vetoed.

The bill to rebate taxes on forest lands, enacted during the session of 1905, was what the old-timers would call "a little thing" for the timber and tannery trusts. It provided for a rebate of 80 per cent of the taxes on scrub timber tracts for a period of thirty-five years. Before it was introduced the trusts had bought up practically all that kind of land in the state with a view of holding it until another crop got ripe and ready for the axe. Paying taxes on land during the period in which they were waiting would be expensive, and the always fertile-minded trust managers conceived the plan expressed in this law to escape the burden. These facts were pointed out clearly, but the trust agents stick together, and the bill was passed, Sisson and Stober voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1346.

The bill to increase the salary of the harbor master of Philadelphia was the payment of another installment of the machine obligation for the acquittal of Sam Salter. The then harbor master swore to all kinds of alibis and other things to justify the packed jury in voting to acquit the champion hallo-box stuffer, and the easiest way to reward him for his crimes was to increase his salary. The bill passed finally, Sisson and Stober voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1689. The acquittal of Salter has cost the state more than any other crime ever committed within its borders.

The number and salaries of employees of the state treasury were increased. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1106, and the number and salaries of the employees of the state library were increased during the session of 1905. Senate Journal, page 777. Sisson dodged the vote on the treasury increase, but voted for the library increase. Stober voted for both.

Pennypacker Provokes Foolish Bill.

In his veto messages Pennypacker was in the habit of poking fun at the legislature on account of the wretched grammar and other delinquencies in form and expression of the bills sent to him for approval. Finally the legislature passed a law providing for the appointment of a man to edit the bills and whip them into some sort of shape. Really the purpose was to provide a fat and eminently respectable job for some favorite political "lame duck," and Pennypacker's criticism inspired the idea and furnished the excuse. Both Sisson and Stober voted for the bill. Senate Journal, 1905, page 781. Another office of similar character was created during the session of 1909, both Sisson and Stober voting for it.

The lawyers of Pennsylvania are bearing testimony, every day, to their high appreciation of the learning, ability and fitness of C. LaRue Munson for a seat on the supreme court bench. Whenever Mr. Munson goes he is most cordially and enthusiastically received by lawyers. Even the partisan lawyer relaxes his prejudices when the question of putting a fit or unfit man on the bench confronts him. Mr. Munson fulfills the lawyers' ideal of a judge and the lawyers will express that fact at the polls this year.

Democrats used to win in Pennsylvania because they used to feel that good government is as important to the average citizen as good crops. In this country the average farmer, with a family of four or five children, pays the price of fifty bushels of corn annually in excessive taxes. If he would sacrifice time to the value of one bushel of corn in order to vote the Democratic ticket, the party which overtaxes him would be put out of business and he would perform a civic duty and save money.

Introducing the New CORSETS for Fall

The corset plays the first and important part in building the feminine toilet of today. Without the proper corset your gown cannot be a full success.

Our corset lines for Fall of 1909 are now complete—chief among them are the J. C. C. Corsets, which have been gaining new friends for the department season after season.

And with good reason, too, for never in our experience in the corset business did a line of corsets offer so many points of advantage.

To begin with, the styles are always correct from the standpoint of fashion. The construction is so good that every corset fits its particular type of woman accurately. The materials and workmanship are so good that the wear is all but doubled.

Corsets for all Forms

$1.00 to $5.00 the pair.
